Summary Prospectus

January 30, 2017

Before you invest, you may want to review the Fund's prospectus, which contains more information about the Fund and its risks. You can find the Fund's Prospectus, Statement of Additional Information and other information about the Fund online at <http://www.bostoncommonfunds.com/internationalliterature.html>. You may also obtain this information at no cost by calling (877) 777 6944 or by sending an email to compliance@bostoncommonasset.com. The Fund's Prospectus and Statement of Additional Information, both dated January 30, 2017, are incorporated by reference into this Summary Prospectus.

Investment Objective

The Boston Common International Fund (the "International Fund") seeks long-term capital appreciation.

Fees and Expenses of the Fund

This table describes the fees and expenses that you may pay if you buy and hold shares of the International Fund.

Shareholder Fees

(fees paid directly from your investment)

Redemption Fee (as a percentage of amount redeemed within 30 days of purchase)	2.00%
--	-------

Annual Fund Operating Expenses

(expenses that you pay each year as a percentage of the value of your investment)

Management Fees	0.90%
Distribution and Service (12b-1) Fees	None
Other Expenses	0.22%
Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses	1.12%

Example

This Example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the International Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The Example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the International Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The Example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the Fund's operating expenses remain the same. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions, your costs would be:

1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
$114	$356	$617	$1,363

Portfolio Turnover

The International Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the above example, affect the Fund's performance. During the most recent fiscal year, ended September 30, 2016, the International Fund's portfolio turnover rate was 32% of the average value of its portfolio.

Principal Investment Strategies

Boston Common Asset Management, LLC ("Boston Common" or the "Adviser") seeks to preserve and build capital over the long term through investing in a diversified portfolio of stocks and American Depositary Receipts ("ADRs") of companies we believe are high quality and undervalued. We look for companies with sound governance and a history of responsible financial management that we believe are capable of consistent profitability over a long time horizon. We include those companies in our portfolios that we believe are operating successfully in economic sectors with superior end-market growth, or are beneficiaries of broader sector themes we have identified, but that we judge to be trading at discounts to their intrinsic value. We seek to integrate environmental, social, and governance (“ESG”) criteria into the stock selection process and express a preference for best-in-class firms with innovative approaches to the environmental and social challenges their industries, society, and the world face. Best-in-class refers to firms that Boston Common views as having better records on ESG criteria than other firms in the same industry or sector.

Boston Common endeavors to integrate financial and sustainability factors into its investment process because we believe ESG research helps us identify companies that will be successful over the long-term. We seek to identify companies that demonstrate a high level of environmental responsibility, commitment to social standards and adherence to best practices in corporate governance. As a result, we believe ESG research helps improve portfolio quality and financial return potential.

Boston Common selects stocks through bottom-up, fundamental research, while maintaining a disciplined approach to valuation and risk control. We may sell a security when its price reaches a set target, if we believe that other investments are more attractive, or for other reasons we may determine.

We use our voice as a shareowner to raise environmental, social, and governance issues with the management of select portfolio companies through a variety of channels. These may include engaging in dialogue with management, participating in shareholder proposal filings, voting proxies in accordance with our proxy voting guidelines, and participating in the annual shareholder meeting process. Through this effort, we seek to encourage company managements toward greater transparency, accountability, disclosure and commitment to ESG issues.

The International Fund will normally invest at least 80% of its net assets, plus borrowings for investment purposes, in securities of non-U.S. companies. The Fund may invest in common and preferred stocks as well as securities that are convertible into common stocks. The Fund may also invest in ADRs, European Depositary Receipts (“EDRs”) and Global Depositary Receipts (“GDRs”). Up to 10% of the Fund’s total assets may be invested in securities of companies located in emerging markets. The Fund generally seeks to invest in companies that have market capitalizations of $2 billion or greater.

Principal Investment Risks

There is the risk that you could lose all or a portion of your investment in the International Fund. The following risks could affect the value of your investment in the Fund:

- General Market Risk: Economies and financial markets throughout the world are becoming increasingly interconnected, which increases the likelihood that events or conditions in one country or region will adversely impact markets or issues in other countries or regions.
- Equity Risk: Common stocks are susceptible to general stock market fluctuations and to volatile increases and decreases in value. These fluctuations may cause a security to be worth less than its cost when originally purchased or less than it was worth at an earlier time.
- Management Risk: Boston Common may fail to implement the Fund’s investment strategies or meet its investment objective.
- Foreign Securities and Emerging Markets Risk: Foreign securities are typically subject to increased risks as compared to U.S. securities, and include risks associated with: (1) internal and external political and economic developments – e.g., the political, economic and social policies and structures of some foreign countries may be less stable and more volatile than those in the United States or some foreign countries may be subject to trading restrictions; (2) trading practices – e.g., government supervision and regulation of foreign securities and currency markets, trading systems and brokers may be less than in the United States; (3) availability of information – e.g., foreign issuers may not be subject to the same disclosure, accounting and financial reporting standards as U.S. issuers, (4) greater volatility; and (5) currency fluctuations. These risks may be greater in emerging market countries.
- Large Companies Risk: Larger, more established companies may be unable to respond quickly to new competitive challenges like changes in consumer tastes or innovative smaller competitors. Also, large-cap companies are sometimes unable to attain the high growth rates of successful, smaller companies, especially during extended periods of economic expansion.

- Sustainability (ESG) Policy Risk: The Fund’s ESG policy could cause the Fund to perform differently compared to similar funds that do not have such a policy. This ESG policy may result in the Fund foregoing opportunities to buy certain securities when it might otherwise be advantageous to do so, or selling securities for ESG reasons when it might be otherwise disadvantageous for it to do so. The Fund will vote proxies in a manner which is consistent with its ESG criteria, which may not always be consistent with maximizing short-term performance of the issuer.
- Regional Risk: Since the Fund may invest a significant portion of its assets in companies in a specific region, including Europe, the Fund is subject to greater risks of adverse developments in that region than a fund that is more broadly diversified geographically. Current political, uncertainty surrounding the European Union (“EU”) and its membership, including the 2016 referendum in which the United Kingdom voted to exit the EU, may increase market volatility. The financial instability of some countries in the EU, including Greece, Italy and Spain, together with the risk of that impacting other more stable countries may increase the economic risk of investing in companies in Europe.

Performance

The following performance information provides some indication of the risks of investing in the International Fund. The bar chart below illustrates how the Fund’s total returns have varied from year-to-year. The table below illustrates how the Fund’s average annual total returns for the 1-year, 5-year and since-inception periods compare with that of a broad-based securities index. This comparison is provided to offer a broader market perspective. The Fund’s past performance, before and after taxes, is not necessarily an indication of how the Fund will perform in the future and does not guarantee future results. Updated performance information is available on the Funds’ website at <http://www.bostoncommonfunds.com>.

After-tax returns are calculated using the historical highest individual federal marginal income tax rates and does not reflect the impact of state and local taxes. Actual after-tax returns depend on the individual investor’s situation and may differ from those shown. Furthermore, the after-tax returns shown are not relevant to investors who hold their shares through tax-deferred arrangements such as 401(k) plans or Individual Retirement Accounts (“IRAs”).

In certain cases, Return After Taxes on Distributions and Sales of Fund Shares may be higher than the other return figures for the same period. This will occur when a capital loss is realized upon the sale of Fund shares or provides an assumed tax benefit that increases the return. Your actual after-tax returns depend on your tax situation and may differ from these shown.

The Fund's distributions will be taxed as ordinary income or capital gains, unless you are investing through a tax-deferred arrangement, such as a 401(k) plan or an individual retirement account. Distributions on investments made through tax-deferred arrangements may be taxed later upon withdrawal of assets from those accounts.

Payments to Broker-Dealers and Other Financial Intermediaries

If you purchase shares of the Fund through a broker-dealer or other financial intermediary (such as a bank), the Fund and its related companies may pay the intermediary for the sale of Fund shares and related services. These payments may create a conflict of interest by influencing the broker-dealer or other intermediary and your salesperson to recommend the Fund over another investment. Ask your salesperson or visit your financial intermediary's website for more information.
